

Global Private Assets Fund

Monthly Report as of 30 April 2022

The Hamilton Lane Global Private Assets Fund AUD Unhedged share class returned 2.98% for the month of April. The weakening of the Australian dollar by 4.6% against the US dollar over the course of the month offset the negative investment returns in USD terms.

The fund's negative investment performance in USD terms came amid a month of broader volatility in the public markets. Global listed markets were down generally, with the MSCI World returning -8.31% in USD terms for the month. Similar to the experience in the beginning of the year, the negative result in April was almost entirely driven by changes in the valuation multiples of the comparable public companies used as reference to value GPA holdings, rather than particular financial shortfalls of the fund's portfolio companies. The portfolio also experienced a negative impact due to the strengthening of the US Dollar, particularly in portfolio companies headquartered in Western Europe.

The fund closed on three new transactions during the month of April, deploying just under $90m across the equity and credit portions of the portfolio.

One new investment that closed during the month of April was an equity investment alongside KPS into Oldcastle Building Envelope (OBE). The company is a North American based manufacturer and distributor of architectural glass and glazing systems. OBE designs, engineers, and manufactures custom glass solutions across areas including storefronts and entrances, architectural glass, windows and glazing hardware to help bring challenging design projects to life.

Deal flow remains strong across the direct credit, direct equity and secondary portions of the portfolio, but the team continues to be highly selective in allocating new capital.

As of month end, the fund's cash holdings equal 12% of NAV. The cash position is fully penciled to transactions pending to close in the next three to six months.
