

Hamilton Lane | Global Private Assets Fund (AUD-Unhedged)

Monthly Report as of 30 June 2021

The Hamilton Lane Global Private Assets AUD Unhedged share class had positive performance of +4.75% in the month of June. Overall performance was largely driven by the positive performance of underlying portfolio companies. The Australian dollar weakened relative to the United States Dollar by 3.2%, positively impacting the return of the unhedged AUD share class.

Performance for the month of June was largely driven by the mark-up of two equity positions which both completed successful Initial Public Offerings during the month. Bright Health, an investment the fund made alongside New Enterprise Associates in September of 2020, was the largest driver of performance for the month of June. Bright Health is a consumer focused, technology enabled health insurance company that operates in markets across the United States. The company offers low-cost health plans and better communication between patient and provider through its virtually integrated healthcare platform. On June 24, the company successfully completed an IPO on the NYSE. Monday.com, the second largest driver of performance was also highlighted last month. The company is an Israel-based SaaS company which specializes in collaborative workflow management. On June 10, Monday.com successfully completed an IPO on the NASDAQ.

The deal pipeline continues to remain strong and diversified, with new deals in June closed across the secondary, credit and equity portions of the portfolio. As of mid-July, the fund is fully deployed with all free cash allocated towards deals waiting to close.
